

CAPTain::compact® potential analyser

The CAPTain::compact® potential analyser is a special version of the established potential analyser CAPTain. CAPTain analyses the self-assessments of individuals and provides its own assessment of their specific job-related behaviour. The objective validity of the CAPTain results is scientifically proven.

The CAPTain::compact® potential analyser is a tool

- for the personnel consultant, ○ to provide sound advice to clients and candidates
- for the HR department ○ to support personnel decisions and development measures
- for the candidates, ○ to be able to match job requirements precisely with their competence profile
- for the manager ○ to conduct development-oriented employee appraisals and personal development on the job
- for the employee ○ to raise awareness of one's own strengths and for targeted, self-active personal development

Areas of use: Leadership, self-initiative, enforcement, team player, relationship orientation, striving for success, specialist activities, analysis, implementation, planning and strategy as well as innovation.

For these behavioural competencies, the CAPTain::compact® potential analyser provides fast and uncomplicated a precise and objective assessment.

Target groups: specialists and managers

Question format: 183 pairs of comparative questions (distortion-proof)

Duration: 30 minutes

We will gladly provide you with detailed information.